Agapov V.L. MINE ORGANIZATION OF THE CPSU-COMMUNIST PARTY
OF UKRAINE: FROM CRISIS TO COLLAPSE (1989-1991 YEARS).

In the article the results of the CPSU and Communist party of Ukraine efforts concerning the strengthening of the influence on the coal enterprises workers, the relationship between the party committees and the miners' teams are clarified. The author analyses the Communists influence on the developments of the mines and notes that the members of the CPSU were people who did not share the ideology of the ruling party. Even the benefits which may be derived from the membership in the party did not attract the absolute majority of the workers. The crisis in the party organizations transformed from a latent state into an open form after the strike in July, 1989 when the miners stopped being afraid of the party and state machine. Psychological situation in the party organizations after the strike is clarified. The Communists shied away from the election to the Bureau and party committees. The activists of the July strike came to lead the party organizations. New leaders of the mine party organizations were people from a different culture. Party committees deliberately refused from powerful functions, they took the Directors of mines and chief specialists from the party committees and turned into the Council of the workshop party organizations secretaries. Another blow to the CPSU was done at the first Congress of miners of the USSR (Donetsk, June 1990). At many rallies held in mining towns on 11th July, 1990 the requirement of the Congress to take the party committees away from the territory of the mines was supported. The leaders of the Communist party resisted the decisions of the XXVIII Congress of the CPSU, which actually authorized the departure of the party committees from the enterprises. Referring to the party's statistics the author reveals the dynamics of miners leaving the CPSU ranks. In none of the national economy branches the party ranks were left so intensively as in the coal industry. Every third person who left the CPSU during 1990 was an employee of the coal industry. During the strike in March, 1991, some miners who were former members of the CPSU renewed their membership. Mine party organizations crisis is considered as the most important component of the USSR political system crisis.

Keywords: CPSU, Communist Party of Ukraine, strike, party organization, miner.

Beldyugin V.A. THE KIEV ECCLESIASTICAL-ARCHEOLOGICAL SOCIETY IN THE CONTEXT OF PRESERVING THE CULTURAL AND HISTORICAL VALUES.

Since independence in Ukraine was a total re-evaluation of cultural values and historical past of our country. The country had to get a new social and political values and build a new civil society, which at the time was in a state of profound crisis. It starts with the formation of grahdanskgo and spiritual consciousness on a new, post-Soviet basis.

Spiritual life - a crucial component of a harmonious and stable development as a person and the state as a whole. Church and religious organizations Ser. XIX - early. Of the twentieth century were the prototype of the civil society, which has developed its own independent and conscious creation. Government reforms and the relative liberalization of society have contributed to the emergence of numerous societies of different areas: scientific, educational, cultural, political, and others. The results of operations of these companies now are most in demand among scholars.

The article deals main trends and methods of the Kiev Church Archaeological Society to preserve the historical and Christian heritage.

Keywords: church-governmental organizations, the Kiev Theological Academy, Church and Archeological Museum, the Kiev church-historical and archaeological society, research, analysis, restoration.

Beldyugina I. THE WAY OF MATERIAL AND HUMAN RESOURCES SUPPLYING OF PRIMARY SCHOOLS IN THE SECOND HALF OF XIX - THE BEGINNING OF XX CENTURY.

In this article is analyzed the impact of regional administrations on the development of educational institutions in the second half of the XIX - the beginning XX century. Special attention is given to the role of regional administrations in material-staff supplying of schools. It is noted that the investments of regional administrations and the state for public education were incomparably different because regional administrations allocated substantial investments for the building and furnishing of schools, took care of education, care for creation of changing rooms, good heating and they increased teacher salaries. Regional administrations also well cared for teacher development: organized courses for teachers, teachers' congress and supported teacher educational training system. Also regional administrations introduced short-term summer courses, which greatly accelerated the training of insufficient personnel for public education.

Keywords: regional administrations, public education, schooling, teachers, allocations, material aid.

Voloshynova A.V. ACTIVITIES OF THE COMMISSION FOR JUVENILE OFFENDERS IN THE USSR IN THE FIRST HALF OF 1920S.

This paper studies the activities of the Commission for Juvenile Offenders in the USSR in the first half of 1920s.

The study is based on the materials from the Central State Archive of higher government authorities of Ukraine, State Archives of Donetsk, Luhansk and Zaporizhzhia oblasts, as well as official published sources and periodicals materials.

Historical and genetic and problem-chronological methods constitute the methodological basis of the paper.

The finding of this study is to determine the significance of the Commission in addressing the problems of juvenile delinquency. The author concluded that in the early stage of its activities, the Commission faced the problems of inadequate funding, unwillingness of judicial and administrative authorities to give cases in its jurisdiction, insufficient number of special facilities for the offenders, but despite this, the establishment of the Commission for Juveniles as a body for medical and educational influence was a great breakthrough in solving social problems and a new step in building the Soviet criminal law.

Keywords: Commission for Juvenile Offenders, Institute of Social Care Brother and Sisters, young and juvenile offenders, offense.

Dovzhuk I.V., Romanova D.V. THE BEGINNING OF INDUSTRIAL COAL MINING IN DONBASS (THE FIRST HALF OF THE SIXTH CENTURY.)

The article tells about foundation on Verhnyoye village in 1795 the coal mine, which had initiated industrial coal development in the Donets Basin. It has been noted that the Coal mine was a manufacturing production of feudal type. It was the state's property and was exclusively based on a manual forced labor as well as completed with a workforce from serfdom.

The Coal mining in Lysycha beam on the lands of Verhnye village was opened in 1792, December by a court counselor Avramov. Because of the special geological conditions, there appeared several coal layers on the surface, which were on the deep depth. It seems as the nature itself created all the conditions for launching the development of coal in the Donbass.

The first mine of the minery was in the south beam's slope and was named N1. It's depth was 17 yards (36,21 m). Coal extraction was conducted using horizontal strokes. The work was entirely done manually. Only on the rise and drainage the simplest mechanization was used (manual and equestrian drill). The rise of coal to the surface and outflow of water were held with the barrels and the crates using hand or horse gate.

In this mine in Lysyche beam there were made coking coal for Lugansk foundry for the first time in Ukraine and Russia. In this regard, Adam Smith in 1799, April 19 reported to Gascoigne, that in March he had carbonized 14000 pounds of coal from the 1st (main) layer and 5000 pounds of coal from the new layer. This amount was enough for the work of furnace during 2 months.

Until 1802 Lisichansk mine was the only enterprise of coal industry not only in the Donbass, but in the whole Russia Empire either. During the first decade of its existence it gave 2 mln 200 thousands of pounds of mineral fuels.

Keywords: Donbass, coal, Lysycha beam, mine, coal industry.

Dyomin O.B. ZIONIST FACTOR IN UK POLICY TOWARDS PALESTINE IN 1914-1929.

The article presents the analysis of international, regional and domestic factors that have shaped the Zionist component of the Middle East course of the UK during 1914-1929. During the WWI British Government refused Pitt doctrine - the concept of preserving Ottoman Empire integrity. Moreover, it should be remembered about a noticeable effect on the British Establishment from financial and social structures, that promoted the idea of the revival of Jewish Palestine. All these finally resulted in a new concept of the UK's Middle East policy, aimed at the destruction of Ottoman Empire. The formation of this concept comes from considering the political goals of the WZO, as well as the situation in the Arab vilayets of the Ottoman Empire.

Keywords: "Jewish National Home", WZO, the mandate, the Arab uprisings, the Palestinian problem.

Krapivin A.V., Imanova E.S. UKRAINE'S PARTICIPATION IN RESOLVING THE SITUATION IN THE BALKANS (the end of XX - beginning of XXI century).

Balkans is the subject of targeted foreign and security efforts of the European Union by which Brussels is trying to establish itself as a powerful political regional player. Interests and leverage of NATO are also present here. Geographic proximity, the presence of many Ukrainian ethnic minority in Southern states Slavic kinship, traditional cultural and religious ties could not affect Ukraine's interest in the region. Thus, the stability of the situation in the Balkans is important for Ukraine's security.

Currently, in the Balkan region remains political tensions, continuing ethnic strife, although it is assumed that the political conflict and the situation in the Balkans is characterized mainly latency basic processes. This applies particularly for Kosovo status settlement and other regional confrontations.

The course of the disintegration of the Yugoslav republics could be relatively compared with the exchange rate at the disintegration of the Soviet Union (such as the declaration of state sovereignty of the Union republics, the loss of leverage, and then collapse of the ruling communist party). Ukrainian state by the time was going through a process of recognition and formation, and the newly created Republic of mutually recognized the independence of each other.

Concerns about the «volcanic» state of affairs in the region pushed to the use of preventive missions. One of these missions, in Ukraine which participated, was «preventive deployment of UN mission in Macedonia (MOONPRM / UNPREDER)» in June 1995 – March 1999, during which the main tasks for the groups were controlling the border areas of the country and information management mission of any event capable to undermine stability in the region.

Actions of the Ukrainian peacekeeping contingent in Kosovo, launched in 1999, is not only a new chapter of foreign policy (including power) activity in Ukraine. Formation and use of KFOR with Kyiv – additional possibility of adjusting the military power of the state in accordance with accents of European geopolitics.

Attention should also be paid to the polar positioning of higher powers in Ukraine over the Kosovo events.

From 1995 to 1999, 240, and a separate special battalion strength of 400 personnel to perform the tasks in Bosnia and Herzegovina within the NATO Implementation Agreement (IFOR) and Stabilization Force (SFOR) led by NATO. During his stay in Bosnia and Herzegovina Ukrainian peacekeepers, in addition to the immediate tasks involved in the restoration, reconstruction and rehabilitation of hospitals and schools, repairing roads, power lines, distribution of food to orphans and children, provide health care to local populations and others. For four years, about 2800 members of the Armed Forces of Ukraine took part in that mission.

Ukrainian peacekeepers have also participated in the peacekeeping mission in Kosovo as part of KFOR in the joint Ukrainian-Polish battalion. All in peacekeeping operations in Yugoslavia was attended by about 14 000 Ukrainian soldiers, 21 of whom died. Diplomatic efforts in the Balkans, Ukraine subordinate its economic and political interests that are caused by geographic proximity, close historical ties, common cultural traditions, and finally became trade and economic relations.

Not the least consequence of Balkan developments was the gradual accumulation of Ukraine for 1990 10000th contingent of former peacekeepers unique real combat experience, which can be used effectively in future.

However, the Ukraine, which remains an object of world politics, is unlikely to pursue a more active policy in the country. The main reason for this is a difficult economic situation; it is very low international competitiveness.

Ukrainian state, despite a number of difficulties objective and subjective nature, in recent years contributed to the solution of a deep crisis in the former Yugoslavia. The absence of any bias on the part of Ukraine to the conflict created a base for more significant results of its operations. Ukraine's position on the settlement of the Yugoslav crisis remains the same - only through negotiation, compromise can achieve long-term peace and stability in the Balkan region.

Mezerya A.A. SOCIAL CONSEQUENCES OF SOLDIERY REFORMS 1860 – 1870-TH YEARS IN THE RUSSIAN EMPIRE FOR THE POPULATION OF THE UKRAINIAN PROVINCES.

In the article the social consequences of soldiery reforms are examined in the Russian empire it is well-proven for the population of the Ukrainian provinces 1860th – 1870th, that military reform, as well as all other, was imperfect, what numerous abuses testify to, corruption outside as soldiery chiefs and civil officials, that in same queue affected position of ordinary citizens. The leadthrough of soldiery reforms 1860th – 1870th considerably influenced on life of servicemen of all grades. Considerable changes which took place in acquisition of army affected daily occurrence of soldiers and officers. The problem of location and quartering of troops became sharp.

Cost effectiveness by a government and unwillingness to build the enough body of barracks, lay down weight on a local population which must was give apartments troops, sometimes to feed, carry out the purveyance of rusks, firewoods, to supply with beddings belongings, carry out the purveyance of grass and hay for soldiery horse and others like that. Similar inconveniences for a local population carried after itself not only negative but also positive, consequences.

Sokolova T.I. THE STORY OF I.V. MICHURIN ASCENDING ON THE TOP OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES.

I.V. Michurin (1855-1935) by the end of his life had achieved almost all highest academic degrees and titles, which were at that time in the USSR (Honoured Scientist and Technician of the USSR, honorary member of the USSR Academy of Sciences, full member of All-Union Academy of Agricultural Sciences named by Lenin, Doctor of Biological Sciences), though he finished only elementary educational institution, Pronsk district college. This success was explained by his genius and great hardworking both in the whole and in his self-education, though special historic researches of this phenomenon are absent. In fact this success is explained not only by the work of a semiliterate gardener-amateur I.V. Michurin in breeding of fruit plant kinds and experimenting, but by the unconditioned public support and glorification of the authorities. Leaders of Bolshevistic Party V.I. Lenin, I.V. Stalin, M.I. Kalinin and local authorities in every possible way supported I.V. Michurin, who gave his wish for working for the new power right away after setting up of Soviet power. Grateful I.V. Michurin glorified Party leaders, unconditionally and in public supported their actions including those which had tragic consequences for the country. It refers forced complete collectivization in agriculture of the country in particular, which led to the famine in 1932-1933, taking away millions of lives. I.V. Michurin ascending on the top of biological sciences in the period of Stalinism is a pay of the authorities for this glorification.

Suslova V.V. JORDANIAN AND ISRAELI PEACE AGREEMENT: PROS AND CONS.

The article is devoted to the history of the Jordanian-Israeli relations since 1994. In this paper shown their political and economic aspects. Highlighted the issue of signing a peace treaty between the two countries in October 1994, and also discusses the features of the development of bilateral relations. Experience has shown that the establishment of good neighborly relations after the conclusion of contracts is a matter no less important and no less easy than the way for their signing. Peace negotiations are not always successful, and even if they end up, formal contracts themselves do not create a new reality. The road to peace, and after numerous holiday ceremonies can be very, very long. The peace treaty between Israel and Jordan is currently the only example of this cooperation and the normalization of relations between Israel and an Arab state.

Fomina O.V. THE ORIGINS OF KIPLINGIANA: ANALYSIS LIFETIME BIOGRAPHIES OF RUDYARD KIPLING.

The article is devoted to the study of books about the life and works of Rudyard Kipling. These books were written by his contemporaries and published in time of life of the writer. Using a comparative historical and problem-chronological methods, and being based on the principles of historicism and the comprehensiveness, the early research on the life and works of Kipling were able to study as historical sources. It is proved that the biography of Rudyard Kipling's lifetime are different in origin, style of writing and the fullness of the actual material and form a separate group of sources for the study of world-famous British writer and political activist. The study also proved, that W. J. Alexander Worster between of all contemporaries biographers of Kipling most deeply analyzed the life and work of the writer. He was able to more fully explore the inner world and bring a wide range of readers his interpretation of his ideas about Empire.

Shabelnikov V. I. DONETSK-KRIVORIZHSKA REPUBLIC HISTORY: THE HISTORIOGRAFIC PROBLEM.

Article examines the history of the statehood of Ukraine (December 1917 – April 1918), which was held in a bitter class struggle. Despite the undeniable achievements of historians to study this period as a whole, there are still some questions that have not found the comprehensive coverage. Among them – the establishment and operation of Donetsk-Krivoy Rog republic, which is still controversial in Ukrainian historiography.

The author notes that the research work carried out by Ukrainian historians to study the problem LSC allowed to come in generalizing works valid conclusions that its creation was a mistake in the nation-building, caused by the underestimation of the national question Donkrivbassa part of managers, which led to the weakening of the Ukrainian statehood.

Summarizing Review historiography of the topic, it should be noted that most of the authors drew attention to the study of the primary reasons and feasibility of trees and shrubs. Discussion of these issues going on with the 20-ies, largely diverted attention from historians in-depth study and practice of the republic of its governing bodies. Therefore requires a detailed and comprehensive study of the problem of the LSC.

Relevance of the topic, the absence of work, the fundamental difference in her estimation, the presence of a large number of small or completely unlit issues – all of which prompted the author to choose the subject of his study history Donetsk-Krivoy Rog republic. The present work is an attempt to recreate a picture of generalizing and activity of the largest regional association in Ukraine in early 1918. Without claiming to be complete and comprehensive study of all aspects of the historiography of the LSC, the author has set the task to analyze and highlight only certain aspects of the topics that are of most interest.

Development of historiography on the specified problem is analyzed by an objective view of the state of its reflection in contemporary literature in close connection with the renaissance of Ukrainian historiography statehood in 1917–1920.

When writing this article the author has used sources, which can be divided into the following main groups: 1) laws and government regulations of the RSFSR and the Soviet Ukraine, and 2) the documents and materials Soviet authorities DKR 3) periodicals; 4) memoirs.

The author concludes that the establishment of Donetsk-Krivoy Rog republic was wrong and did not receive wide support among the Bolshevik organizations and Councils pool. Separation from the Soviet Ukraine in the most developed industrial area and revolutionary sense disturb the unity of its statehood, complicated the development of the Donets Basin.

Emphasizes that the conclusions of the article selection Donetsk-Krivoy Rog basin from Ukraine is not of necessity and was erroneous, contrary to the interests of the Ukrainian revolution.

Key words: Donetsk-Krivorizhska Republic, historiography, disintegration, separatism, historical science, research, nationally-state building, federalism, Ukrainian historians, territory of Donbas.

Schebetyuk N. THE REGIONAL PRINCIPLE OF AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH IN UKRAINE (THE FIRST DECADES OF TWENTIETH CENTURY.)

Agricultural research of Ukraine in its formation was difficult. It was developed slowly and from time to time. The Research depended on needs of agriculture, changes in society, economics or political system. This science depended much on government. There were many discussions between government and scientists about the right organization of the Research of agricultural science. The main task of this article is to show how agricultural research was organized in Ukraine. The main principle was to divide geographically Ukraine to parts. The results of historical and scientific analysis show the features of the structure of the National Agricultural Research during the first decades of the last century.

Keywords: Agricultural Research, development, scientific stations, region, programs, functions, conclusions.

Yurchak E.V. DOCTOR OF AGRICULTURAL SCIENCES L.D. YURCHAK (1937-2010) FORMATION AS INDIVIDUAL AND ACADEMIC.

The article considers the key conditions of formation of L.D. Yurchak personality, the formation of a scientific outlook and scientific activity period of 1962-1979 years.

The purpose of this paper is to analyze microbiological of research L.D. Yurchak and effect allelopaty the principles of optimization in agriculture.

Deals with a system of rules and regulations prevailing in the family, in which educated future scientists . Particular attention is paid to the role of guiding and steering Acad. A.M. Grodzinsky in the making L.D. Yurchak as a scholar, and further independent work in Central Republic Botanical Garden of the USSR. We consider it results work on the physiologically active substances plants, as well as original data on interspecific relationships in phytocenoses with microorganisms - for example syderal lupine and accompanying microflora of soil.
